Review of the Week.

Tuesday, December 19.

- Collapse of the strike at Olneyville, R. I.
- The Boston aldermen vote to run a subway under Tremont St.
- Abrupt adjournment of the House after listening to the President's message on Hawaii.
- The crew of the Brazilian cruiser "Niteroi," now at Pernambuco, refuse to enlist in the Brazilian navy without increased pay.
- The members of Tremont Temple Church, this city, agree to fast on Friday and give the cost of their dinners to the poor.
- More than two hundred suspected anarchists to be banished from France.
- The citizens' committee of this city will raise a fund for the unemployed.
- The Meyer trial, New York interrupted by the sudden insanity of a juror.
- More tax riots in Sicily; the mob fired upon by troops, and some thirty wounded.
- Physicians pronounce Fendlergast, now on trial in Chicago for the murder of Mayor Carter Harrison, insane.

Wednesday, December 20.

- The U. S. cruiser "San Francisco" ordered to Rio.
- Hon. Wayne MacVee, of Pennsylvania, nominated for ambassador to Italy.
- The Barcelona bomb thrower caught; he makes confession; his name is Jose Codina.
- The shoe business brightening.
- Bishop Lawrence approves of incineration as a healthy and proper way of disposing of the dead.
- The Wilson tariff bill reported in the House; a stormy debate over the Hawaiian matter; the urgency deficiency bill passed.

Thursday, December 21.

- Ex-Minister Stevens replies to the President's message—those parts that relate to him.
- A systematic scheme for relieving the unemployed organized in this city.
- "Dr." Mary J. Henderson, convicted of criminal malpractice, sentenced to eight years in the House of Correction.
- Senator Hoar attacks the Administration on the Hawaiian business; the matter referred to a committee.
- Irregularities amounting to millions of dollars discovered in the New York Custom House.
- Continued fighting in Rio harbor; government troops make a landing, and are surrounded and repulsed.
- A monster petition for good roads and a road bureau sent to Congress.
- The registration of the Chinese on the Pacific coast proceeding in an orderly way.
- The laws for the repression of anarchism in Paris proving effectual.

Friday, December 22.

- Both houses of Congress adjourn to Wednesday, Jan. 3; the minority report on the tariff bill presented in the House, and the Hawaiian difficulty cause excitement.
- Death of George C. Magoun, the well-known New York banker.
- The St. Nicholas Bank of New York city closes its doors.
- The city council of Boston confer with the alderman for a subway under Tremont Street; the mayor will appoint a commission.
- The Italian Chamber orders to be published all the documents of the Bank scandal investigating committee.
- An electric road between Boston and Portland proposed.
- Commodore Stanton censured, but restored to duty, and given the command, temporarily, of the North Atlantic squadron.
- The 273rd anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims appropriately commemorated in this city.
- Morocco grants Spain's demand; the Rifian aggressors to be surrendered, and a neutral zone established.
- Saturday, December 23.
- Peñate's troops capture islands in Rio harbor from the insurgents.
- Tramps engage in a bloody fight with troops and police in Oklahoma, Ia.
- Olneyville mill owners make a Christmas present of $3,000 to destitute operatives.
- Gov. Wells of Colorado keeps up the fight for free coinage.
- Edward M. Field, of New York, declared to be sane, and he will be tried on the indictments against him.
- The Italians in northeastern Africa rout an army of 10,000 dervishes; several hundred of the latter killed.
- The Wakfield building on Canal Street, in this city, burned.
- A rising against President Heuresaux in San Domingo.
- Monday, December 25.
- Forty-four Tammany election officials in New York indicted.
- The Atchison & Santa Fe railway system goes into the hands of receivers.
- The cruiser "New York" ordered to Rio.
- Opening of the first section of the Congo railroad.

We are hoping that this movement will tend to bring the Y. P. S. C. E. of First Church into line, and then our Conference will be a unit. Rev. H. E. Foss and his church are on the creek of the wave. As an adjunct of the church the "Forward Movement" is a lively affair. This mission is located on the "Devil's Half-Acre," more or less (probably more), and will test the iron-like as well as the lamb-like elements of the church and pastor. Baptisms and receptions are frequent at Grace Church.

Boston.—Since Conference, Rev. N. E. Pearson has baptized 29 and has received $400 on the church and organ was raised at our last visit.

Houlton.—Since the items from Bangor District on page 7 went to press last Friday, we have received the following from our correspondent: "Please change the Houlton item in regard to the dedication of the new church. Dr. J. W. Hamilton will dedicate it on some date—not yet fixed—during the week of the wave, and will also reopen our church at Dover the same week."
